🎵 Worship

Sunday services are a mix of the traditional and the modern with both hymns and modern worship songs used. Communion is offered fortnightly with the mostly informal all-age service taking place on the 2nd Sunday of each month which is especially good for those wishing to come for the first time.

Every Sunday, 10:30am to 12pm
Every Wednesday, 9:30 to 10:30 am

📖 A Little History

The first place of worship with the designation "St. Columba" was opened in 1914, and is now the Church Hall.

In October 1926 H.R.H. The Princess Royal laid the Foundation Stone of the permanent Church by "remote control" from the Cecil Cinema. The new Church was consecrated by Archbishop William Temple in January 1929.

During an air raid in July 1943 the Church was destroyed by bombing, and services were transferred back to the Hall, where they continued to be held until 1960.

The Foundation Stone of the current Church was laid by H.R.H. The Princess Royal in person on the site in October, 1958, and the new Church was consecrated by Archbishop Ramsey in September 1960. This gives St Columba's the peculiar distinction of having two foundation stones.

Because of the Hull Corporation's intention to widen Holderness Road, it was necessary to set the building back from its original foundations, and for this reason the sanctuary of the present Church stands where the chancel stood in the first Church. Hence, the present St. Columba's is regarded as a new Church, and so has been consecrated rather than rehallowed. The council have yet to get around to widening the road!

From the old Church the walls at the Holderness Road end of the building have been retained to half their height and the piers from half way down the nave. Shrapnel marks on these piers are a reminder of the destruction and resurrection of our Church.
